SOUTH CHURCH HARVEST SUPPER

Old-Timers Entertain the Newcomers at Bountiful Repast Followed by Play. Decorations Appropriate to Hallowe'en Season

The South Church vestries were thronged last evening when the old-timers of the parish, or those who have made it their church home for more than twelve years, entertained the newcomers at a harvest supper, followed by a play.

The supper room was bright with the orange and black of hallowe'en, witches, owls and cats being seen on every hand. Orange candles and fall chrysanthemums, bitter-sweet, and bayberries were the table decorations.

The generous menu, prepared by Mrs. Herbert White and her corps of assistants included cold corned beef and fresh shoulder, scalloped potatoes, hot boiled onions, cranberry sauce, celery, baked beans, white and graham rolls, squash and apple pie, cheese, and coffee.

Following the supper, a gentle satire on the philanthropic efforts of a group of women was presented in the form of a play called "How the Ladies Earned Their Dollar."

The members of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of Andover (though fortunately they

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shattuck are enjoying a trip to the mountains and Canada.

The Boy Scouts of the Free church will hold a Hallowe'en party this evening in the vestry.

There will be a whist party at the home of Mrs. Samuel Harris on November 1, under the auspices of the Clan Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Allen and daughter, Jean, of Hanover, N. H., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen this past week.

The boys of the Junior clan are planning to run a food sale and a minstrel show in the near future. The public patronage of these events is asked.

Miss Ethel Cole, soprano, sang at the morning service of the South church Sunday morning. Miss Grace M. Allen, a member of the choir, is ill with scarlet fever.

A meeting of the Civic league of Andover was held in the Free church last Friday evening and was addressed on the 18th Amendment. About fifteen were present.

Don't forget that the Tuesday Club rummage sale will be held tomorrow, Saturday, October 30, at the Guild house. The sale will start at nine o'clock in the morning and continue all day.

The A. G. C. class of the Free church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. C. Church on Summer street last Friday evening. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

Seymour Tate who is attending Middlebury college in Vermont, was at his home in South Lawrence over the week-end. He visited Punchard during his stay, greeting his former schoolmates and teachers.

The Free church choir is having extra rehearsals during the fall as it has been accepted as a part of the Associated choirs of Greater Boston, through the influence of its choirmaster, Gerald F. Frazee, and will sing in Symphony hall next spring.

The selectmen met the officials of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway Monday afternoon and viewed the grade near the property of Walter Donald in Shawheen Village. This place has been washed out continually by heavy rains and it was finally decided that the railroad would repair it.

A Hallowe'en party will be given at the Crystal ball room, formerly the Shawheen cafeteria, under the auspices of the Andover Square and Compass club Friday evening. Special music and exhibition dancing will be the features. Hallowe'en specialties will be introduced. A novelty barbecue lunch will be served.

The Ways and Means committee of the Eastern Star conducted a very successful rummage sale in the vacant store in the Musgrove building last Friday afternoon, making a goodly sum for the benefit of the treasury of the organization. Those in charge of the sale were Miss Bertha Higgins, Mrs. David L. Cutts, Mrs. J. A. Barnes, Mrs. Harry Chadwick and Miss Alice McTern.

The Hampton Institute Quartet will sing plantation songs and representatives of the school will speak at the Stone Chapel of Phillips academy on Friday evening, October 29, at eight o'clock.

A baked bean supper will be served by the Rebekahs Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock. The menu will include baked beans, meats, salads, rolls, pies, doughnuts, cheese. A nominal sum will be charged.

The members of the A. P. C. sorority of the South Church will entertain the I. B. G. girls at a Hallowe'en party to be given at the home of Mrs. Frank T. Carlton on Monday evening. Mrs. Nathaniel Stowers is in charge of the party.

Nothing but Full-Fashioned

The hosiery-wise woman of today will have nothing but full-fashioned stockings. She has found from experience that unless her hosiery is full-fashioned, it soon loses its shape and wrinkles around the ankles.

Rosaine Hosiery is all genuine full-fashioned. No matter how many times it is washed and worn, the ankle still retains its trim-fitting form. And the pure silk of which it is made gives many months of hard wear.

Rosaine Hosiery in a medium service weight, can now be had in all the new and smartest colors. $1.85

The Casting of the Vote

Behold, The King!
With no attendant train he comes,
With naught of pomp, nor roll of drums:
Frail, stained his hands, and rough his guise,
But kingliness is in his eyes!

A cross of care the mace he bears,
A workman's cap the crown he wears;
Freed from the bond of anything
Unpledged to prince, or clique, or ring.
He comes—a King!

Alone with God!
In chance where, for good or ill,
Freemen may work their sovereign will;
He stands within the voting place
With strong right hand behind him trace
Untrammeled Faith his guide and light,
The blessed Cross, the Sign of might!

Lo, craven millions wait his nod,
This toiler with the ruler's rod,
Alone with God!

Again, the King!
Before the ballot-box he stands,
His folded choice in regal hands;
None but his God his fealty knows,
But, in the People's Cause it shows!
Wrong trembles on its gilded throne,
And all earth waits the solemn tone;
For, from this silent, wondrous thing
There's no appeal, no answering!
Who loaves, must swift allegiance bring,
Obey the King!

FRATERNAL FAIR OPENS

Supper to Be Served on Saturday and Capital Prizes Will Be Awarded Late in the Evening.

A new entrance welcomed the people who visited the three-day fair which opened on the second floor of the Fraternal building last night.

For many weeks the committees of the various lodges which own the building have been busily engaged with whist parties and bakery sales by means of which they have obtained funds to purchase articles for their tables.

Blankets and dolls are in charge of Andover Lodge, I. O. O. F.; fancy work and refreshments in charge of Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge; a country store, Garfield Lodge, Knights of Pythias; candy, Pythian Sisters; novelty and hoop-la, Clan Johnston; bakery, Clan Auxiliary; red work and basketry, ways and means committee.

Interest is felt in the award of the capital prizes which consist of a victrola given by W. A. Allen, an automobile tire given by Lyle brothers, a fern basket by Playdon, and the papering and painting of a room given by Buxton & Craik.

The fair will continue tonight and Saturday night.

On Saturday evening, a supper will be served on the third floor by the women of the ways and means committee, assisted by members of Indian Ridge Rebekah Lodge.

Those in charge of the various tables are as follows:

Blankets and dolls—Andover Lodge, I. O. O. F., James Craik, Walter Buxton and Charles Fettes.

Fancy work and refreshments—Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge, Mrs. Franklin Valentine, Mrs. Edmund Dunwoody, Mrs. Donald Laurie, Mrs. Carl Elander, Miss Grace Lake, Miss Annie Anderson, Miss Milly MacLeod.

Country store—Garfield lodge, Knights of Pythias, James C. Souter, John Swenson, Jesse West, Thomas Gorrie, Harry Hurwicz, James Skea, George A. Carter, Elmer Philbrick, Thomas Flynn, Henry E. Miller, W. A. Stevens, Douglas Hutcheson.

Candy table—Pythian Sisters, Mrs. William Orr, Mrs. Edward Roby, Mrs. Katherine Bickell, Mrs. Fred Adams, Miss Agnes Thim.

Novelty and Hoop-La—Clan Johnston, George B. Petrie, John Auchterlonie, Alfred Harris, James Smith, Edward Downs, Alex Bertram, George Carmichael, Samuel Harris.

Bakery table—Clan auxiliary, Mrs. Charlotte Holden, Mrs. Samuel Harris, Mrs. Robert Low, Mrs. Archie Davidson, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Jean Sorrie.

Read work and basketry—Ways and Means committee, comprising all the organizations, Edward C. Emslie, Alexander MacKenzie, Mrs. W. H. Faulkner, Mrs. Charles Morse, Mrs. Leonard Saunders, Mrs. Ralph T. Berry, Mrs. Elmer Philbrick, Ralph Berry, Charles Fettes, Claremont Gray and Bertram Stott.

A recital on Tuesday evening by Walter Edward Howe, organist and director of music at Abbot Academy, introducing the recently enlarged organ in Davis Hall, was a brilliant occasion in Andover's musical and social season.

The importance and value of the gift by Mrs. Dorothy Davis Rimmer was emphasized by the Honorable Marcus Morton, president of the Board of Trustees. He expressed his pleasure in standing before an Andover audience and speaking words of appreciation in their behalf as well as in behalf of the trustees. Only a few years ago music was relegated to the rear of a school curriculum and only a few participated, but music is now recognized in all institutions of learning as one of the fine arts in which all may have a part. Abbot has not been behind in recognizing it as a part of the curriculum; and the school is most fortunate in possessing one of the finest instruments to be given to a school for educational purposes. Mr. Morton spoke of its inspirational value as organ music appeals to the best part of human nature, and expressed the opinion that Abbot girls would look back on the hours spent in Davis Hall as one of the pleasantest memories taken from the school, and that they would recognize in after years what the organ had meant as a character-building force. The gift of Mrs. Rimmer was especially pleasing as she is a member in the third generation of a family whose benefactions have done much for the school interests.

Following the recital a reception, attended by five hundred guests was tendered by the Trustees and Principal of the school, in Draper Hall, which was beautiful with a wealth of roses and chrysanthemums. Miss Bertha Bailey, the Honorable Marcus Morton, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edward Howe were assisted in receiving by other members of the faculty.

The recital itself opened with a dedicatory piece in the form of a sonatina, written by Walter Edward Howe.

The students' singing of the Bach chorale was effectively accompanied by the choral diapason placed on the stage. The girls' singing was a delight, but we were grateful for Mr. Howe's suggestion that they face the audience in their second number, although perhaps the beauty of so many youthful seraphs detracted from our attention.

Mr. Howe commenced the second part of the program by two tasteful numbers arranged with considerable skill by himself. They were well selected for such an occasion for we heard many beautiful effects; the harp and bells were especially noticeable. The Symphonie of Vieme was masterfully played. Karg-Elert's "Mirrored Moon" is something new to Andover and was well received, but it was the Overture to "Tannhauser" that seemed to arouse the greatest enthusiasm in the audience. The program:

Mr. Daudelin Will Teach Young People to Play the Violin

The widespread interest in the violin that has been awakened throughout the country among all classes of people has brought the instrument to a degree of popularity never equalled before. Not only have young people and adults taken up the study of the violin, but even children have found that they too, could learn to play the violin.

The consideration of these facts has induced Joseph Emile Daudelin to devote a portion of his time to the instruction of children—a branch of teaching in which his school has met with very gratifying success. The teaching of young people is at all times of a peculiar and responsible nature, and can only be made thoroughly beneficial by the utmost consideration, tact, and patience on the part of teachers.

Joseph Emile Daudelin closely follows the very successful system now in use at the celebrated Paris Conservatoire, where he was a student under the famous professors Jules Garcin and Henri Leonard. This extensive experience as a teacher in different branches of music particularly fits him to undertake the guidance and instruction of young people.

Parents, as a rule, complain that their children often are frightened and nervous when called upon to play at home. This question, to the apparent gratification of both parents and pupils has been solved by simply giving each student a chance to play Duet, Trios and Quartets with his colleagues during the lessons.

The course of instruction is carefully graded from the very beginning to the most difficult studies. Personal interest is extended the pupil who is encouraged and aided in every possible way. Every effort is made to discover the needs of each individual pupil, to remedy natural and acquired defects, and to develop to the utmost original talents.

Joseph Emile Daudelin, former pupil of the famous Paris Conservatoire, at William H. Gibson's, 33 Chestnut street, Thursdays; other days at Steinert Hall, Boston, Mass.

Last evening brought about the opening of the annual fair of the Andover Grange, No. 183, P. of H., at the Town hall, and as usual, the Grangers were favored with a good patronage. The fair was arranged by the Women's club of the Grange and Mrs. Milo H. Gould, as president of the club, was in general oversight of the arrangements. On the right of the entrance was the supper room, curtained off by bunting. There B. Frank Smith was in charge of a corps of court-ous waiters. But his efforts would have gone for naught were the skillful ministrations of the chef, S. H. Bailey with his assistants, Fred M. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, Frank Foster and Milo Gould left out of the reckoning. The tables and their attendants were as follows: Vegetables—E. W. Burt, Nathan R. did not represent Andover types at any period, assembled to make cheesecloth gowns for the brides of Greenland, and tell how they had earned their dollars with which to fill the treasury. Some original and not entirely benevolent methods of acquiring money were reviewed. Miss Updodate and Mlle. Francis lend a bit of romance, and Grandma Wise justified her name when she told of her plan for distributing her ten dollars in local philanthropy and undoing the mischief her fellow-workers had unwittingly made.

All of which had a moral, but furnished a most acceptable evening's entertainment.

Free Church Christian Endeavor Meets

In spite of the shower, about twenty of the members of the Free church Christian Endeavor society were present at the meeting Sunday.

The topic for the evening was "Religious Athletics," and Randolph Perry acted as leader. The meeting was opened with the singing of Northfield hymns and the topic was freely discussed by all members. During the business meeting, coffee and sandwiches were served. Miss Bertha Cuthill, Miss Effie Ross and Herbert Ott reported on the Essex county convention held in Boston Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Tuesday evening members of the Christian Endeavor went to the K. of C. alleys to bowl against the X. B. K.

"I Couldn't Keep House Without 20th Century Bread"

Whenever women talk over home affairs, you are certain to hear one or more make the above exclamation. Hundreds of the best housekeepers in the Andovers have learned that they can buy a loaf as good as their own in every way, eliminating the drudgery and worry, by asking their grocer for this favorite home-made loaf of bread.

We are indeed happy to know that we are doing so much for the women of the Andovers and their families. The first day we began baking 20th Century Bread we knew that we would have to bake a REAL HOME-MADE LOAF to make it the choice of the critical housewives of the Andovers, as well as the other cities and towns.

May we suggest that if you haven't done so already, you try 20th Century Bread the next time you order. There's real bread happiness awaiting you. You'll "just love" the golden brown crust, the snow-white fluffy texture within—and as for wholesome flavor—ah, that's where this loaf CAPTIVATES.

Phillips Academy 14, Lawrence H. S. 0

Ten thousand saw the Phillips Academy eleven defeat the Lawrence High School last Saturday afternoon in the battle to dedicate the new $250,000 Memorial Stadium. They saw an aerial attack that completely baffled the Lawrence blue and white eleven swing the pendulum of victory almost from the start of the game. A forward pass for a gain of 47 yards followed by a criss-cross play from the 10-yard line scored the first touchdown in the third period, and a blocked kick on the first play in the fourth period scored the second.

Preceding the game they saw one hundred "L" club members, with members of a Lawrence military organization, members of the City Government, the Advisory Board, members of the school committee, and the two football squads, headed by the Lawrence High School Band, parade about the field and conclude the exercises with the raising of the national colors.

Until the fourth period Lawrence High did not make a first down; it was very evident that they were playing out of their class. Captain Bob Haphey, the star gainer, was checked in every attempt he made to plow his way through the powerful Andover line; passing overhead was a complete failure, with the exception of a spread formation in the last period of play when two were completed.

On the other hand it was a great aerial attack and the fine performance of Crandall, the Andover quarterback, that gave Andover its margin of victory. They started the over-head game in the third period and went through Lawrence with all the speed of a rapid-fire machine gun.

Lawrence did better in the first half of the game than they did in the second—they managed to hold Andover from scoring in the first half, but they were powerless in the second half. A forward pass, Roe to Avery, netted 49 yards, and placed the visitors in position to score their first touchdown in the third period, and a blocked kick on the first play in the fourth period gave them the second touchdown.

Two Lawrence backs surrounded Avery when he pulled down Roe's long heave, but they were beaten in the jump by the rangy Avery, who was downed on the 17-yard line. The pass was thrown from the Andover 37-yard stripe and netted 49 yards. Andover followed up the advantage by scoring from the 10-yard line on a perfectly executed criss-cross play.

The second touchdown resulted from two Lawrence kicks being blocked. The Devil charges were fighting with their backs to the wall on the 18-yard line. It was next to impossible for the backs to penetrate through the Andover line and Captain Haphey elected to kick. The kick was blocked by Kingston but recovered by Learnmouth. Two rushes cost Lawrence a 6-yard loss, and Captain Haphey went back again to kick for the first play in the fourth period. Again his kick was blocked as he lifted his foot on the goal line, Davis breaking through and recovering the ball for Andover in back of the line.

The sum and substance of the game is that Andover stopped Captain Haphey, the powerful line-plunger. Not more than five times was he able to penetrate for only a 3-yard gain. In stopping him they stopped the Lawrence offense.

But it is not to their discredit that Lawrence lost, and it is no blemish on the playing of Haphey that he was not able to gain. The Andover line was too rugged for the Lawrence boys to cope with. Every attempt at advancing the ball by Lawrence was nipped in the bud. Andover backs had all the time in the world to complete their forward passes and to get off their kicks because of the brilliant play of the line.

But the Andover team showed that they had more than brains in their outfit when they met the Lawrence line. The ball was on the Lawrence 10-yard line, with a goal to make on the fourth down. It was next to impossible to push through the center of the line to do it, and a forward pass was only a gamble. The Lawrence stands were more or less decided that it was only another close shave that the Lawrence team was winning. They had had several previous in the game when two Andover drop kicks narrowly missed their mark. But Quarter-back Crandall crossed up everything. He called for a trick criss-cross play, Crandall to Wheeler to Frigid, which completely baffled the Lawrence team and netted a score. Frigid falling across the line with three green jerseys hanging onto him like a drapery.

All through the game Andover showed it was alert and ready always to take advantage of opportunities. They burst in on two of Haphey's kicks and intercepted a few of Lawrence's forward passes, one in the fourth period which nearly resulted in another score. Richardson pulling the ball out of the air in his own territory to run 43 yards before he was forced out of bounds on Lawrence's 22-yard line. Two 5-yard penalties kept the team from scoring by rushing the ball, but they nearly completed another forward pass behind the line for a third score. Roe hurled one of his notable long passes. Barres got his hands on it but let it fall to the ground.

Crandall played a great game for Andover. He was as elusive as an eel. Time after time he broke through the line and circled the ends for long gains.

Wheeler's work in gaining ground also was effective. Richardson far outclassed Haphey in kicking, while he did his share in the ground-gaining. The best looking player on the Lawrence team Saturday was not in the backfield, as has been the case in the games to date. He was just a "rookie" who had never played football until this season. His name is Learnmouth, a real Scotchman playing left tackle. On a number of occasions he used his brute strength to burst through his opponents and pull down an Andover ball-carrier for a loss, while he also followed the ball with a keen eye, gathering in the oval several times when it became an orphan.

Throughout the whole first period and during most of the game the ball was in Lawrence territory. A forward pass intercepted by an Andover player on the third play of the game put Lawrence in a hole. It gave Andover the ball on the Lawrence 38-yard line, and they worked it to the 17-yard stripe. Roe came back from the line and from the 30-yard line tried a drop kick that failed.

Haphey kicked out to the 38-yard mark and Andover again worked the ball to the 23-yard line before the period ended.

On the first play of the second period Roe tried another drop kick, this time from the 28-yard mark, but that too failed. It was short of its mark. After Lawrence found it difficult to make any headway Bob Haphey was forced to kick again. The Andover over-head game came to the fore when Avery got under one of Roe's long throws for a 29-yard gain. Richardson went back this time to try for a drop, but it was wide.

After three unsuccessful attempts to garner three points when within striking distance of the Lawrence goal line, Andover decided to rush the ball. They were put into scoring position by a forward, Roe to Avery, which netted 49 yards. This is when Crandall used all his craft to advantage, calling for a criss-cross play in which Frigid carried out for a touchdown, circling the Lawrence right wing.

Following the score Lawrence elected to kick to Andover. Frigid carried the ball and was downed on the 37-yard line. From there Crandall circled the end for a 13-yard gain, and thrusts at the line brought it to the Lawrence 46-yard line. Richardson kicked to Lee on the 14-yard mark and Lee was downed in his tracks. Lawrence found it utterly impossible to gain by rushing. The backfield was thrown for losses and the ball was on the 9-yard line when the period ended. Captain Haphey was standing on his own goal line in the first play of the fourth period. What happened is told above. On both occasions of scores Richardson kicked the goal for the extra point.

Lawrence's spread formation at this late stage of the game was their most active. They made their only two first downs by forward passes, the second one aided by a 5-yard penalty inflicted on Andover. Andover made eight first downs.

In the second period of the game Avery took the ball out of Haphey's hands as the latter was about to heave a forward pass, and ran across the Lawrence goal line, presumably for a touchdown, but Referee Twomey ruled that the ball had traveled one inch forward and it was an incomplete forward pass. ### Knocked Down on Reading Road

Mrs. Newton Jaquith, Jr., of South Main street is at the Lawrence General hospital suffering from bruises on the head and several broken ribs as the result of being struck by an automobile driven by Norman Wiggins just opposite her home on the Reading road Tuesday evening about half past five.

Mrs. Jaquith had gone to the store at Carter's corner and having accomplished her errand, had probably walked up the car track and was just crossing the road to her own door when the accident occurred. Mr. Wiggins was returning to his home in Shawshen and being dazzled by the lights of an approaching automobile was not aware of Mrs. Jaquith's approach until within a few feet of her. He jammed on his brakes but not soon enough to prevent striking her. Not knowing who she was, Mr. Wiggins carried her to the office of Dr. Hartigan, where she was transferred to the Andover ambulance and driven to the Lawrence hospital.

In the meantime, her family, alarmed by her absence, telephoned to the store and finding that she had left there some time ago, were doubly concerned since they had heard of an automobile accident on the road. Having telephoned in vain to several of the local doctors, they communicated with the police and soon located Mrs. Jaquith at the Lawrence hospital. Although her injuries are serious, her name is not on the danger list.

Vote for Mrs. Rogers

The Fifth Congressional District is strongly Republican, and the election of Edith Nourse Rogers is assured. But there should be something more than an election in her case. Mrs. Rogers is entitled to an overwhelming victory on her record at Washington. For nine years she served as personal representative of the President in veterans' relief work throughout the nation. That work she did faithfully and well. Two Presidents paid her sincere tributes in this connection. Upon her election as the successor of her husband, the late John Jacob Rogers, as Representative of the Fifth Congressional District, she applied herself to her responsibilities with the same energy and fidelity that she had indicated in soldiers' relief endeavor. The thoroughness of her service for constituents of the district is well known. She has demonstrated a high conception of her duties at Washington; she has been constantly in touch with the people back home who have needed her assistance in many directions. Therefore, a vote for Edith Nourse Rogers next Tuesday is a vote for continued thorough-going representation at Washington. Party ties should not be considered in this case. We believe the voters generally will indicate their appreciation of service so well rendered.

For State Representative

Locally, the most contested office seems to be that of representative in the Legislature. The redistricting which has recently taken place creates a new and complicated problem. Andover, which is strongly Republican and which has sent Republicans to the State House in real danger of being outvoted by Democratic South Lawrence in this sticker campaign, because the majority of voters are in Lawrence and are of the Democratic point of view.

Two representatives are to be elected in the new district of which we are a part, and four men, two of each party, are running. The only Andover man is Andrew McTernan and it seems only right that Andover voters should give him their full support. Not to do so means that we have no local representative at the State House, those going being men from Lawrence.

Mr. McTernan has lived in Andover almost all his life. For a great many years he was superintendent of the Tyler Rubber Company. He has already served this town in the Legislature, and in addition was on the local Board of Public Works, and has, for a number of years, been selectman. He has the endorsement of the Republican Town Committee.

Governor and Senator

Although the people of Massachusetts are not voting for President this year, the situation regarding the state election has taken on even more importance than many of the presidential campaigns of the past. Events have developed to make this election a most significant one in the eyes of the entire nation. The continuance of President Coolidge's success during the remainder of his present administration and the President's political future depend on the verdict of the people of his own home state. Today the greatest ambition of the Democratic party throughout the country is to bring about, if possible, the defeat of Senator William M. Butler. If such a thing should be accomplished, a cry would be set up all over the land that the President has been repudiated by his own state. We repeat, that sort of a result would visit great humiliation upon our President.

Stand by the President. That overshadow all other issues in this campaign. Republicans have a compelling duty. Pride in the man we have given to lead the nation, and pride, as well, in our state government should inspire every Republican to turn out and vote next Tuesday and to see that others do likewise for the election of Senator Butler, Governor Fuller, Lieutenant Governor Allen and the entire Republican ticket.

Massachusetts is a great industrial state. The welfare of the great bulk of the population depends upon the prosperity of our industries. They have prospered under the protection of the Republican tariff policy, shutting out competition with the products of foreign countries, where labor is paid a meager wage and living conditions are far below the scale of American workers. No man in public life is better qualified than Senator Butler to uphold the principle of the protective tariff. To elect a Democratic Senator would be no less than to say that Massachusetts does not care what happens to its industries, that it would prefer a Senator whose party advocates a low tariff policy.

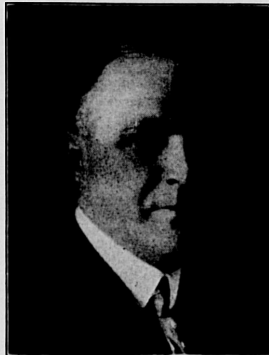

Under Governor Fuller's administration the state has made rapid strides toward the goal of government on a strictly business basis. The state's net debt has been substantially reduced, taxes have been held down, and the day is not far distant when the government will be on a pay-as-you-go plan, with a resultant benefit to the people in lower taxation. In the wisdom of its laws, the advancement of education, public health and the care of the unfortunate, Massachusetts is held up as a model for all her sister states.

Massachusetts is a Republican state. The Republican party has a majority of the votes. There can be no doubt of the result if these votes are registered at the polls. If indifference prevails we are face to face with a political crisis. Seldom has this Commonwealth approached an election of such great significance. The President's administration, his own political future, with all that it implies in the destiny of the nation, are dependent upon the outcome of the voting in this state.

Never has there been a louder or clearer call to every Republican man and woman in this Commonwealth. President Coolidge himself has spoken. Not in his own behalf, but because he believes in Senator Butler, he says of the Senator: "In the Senate he holds a place which no one else could command in Massachusetts, admired for his wisdom, respected for his integrity." And the President and Mrs. Coolidge are setting a good example for their friends and neighbors by coming home to cast their ballots.

Editorial Cinder

Although Mr. Davis of Haverhill was well supported as senatorial nominee at the Primaries, let us not forget to give him the strong vote he deserves when we go to the polls next Tuesday.

GOVERNOR ALVAN T. FULLER
Candidate for reelection.

SENATOR WILLIAM M. BUTLER
Republican choice for Congress.

FRANK G. ALLEN
Candidate for reelection as Lieut. Governor.

SOCIAL WORK CONFERENCE

Guided, the churches and other private organizations.

Mr. Kelso emphasized the fact that relief agencies should consider their obligation to the community as a whole, rather than concentrating on a few clients. The overlapping of work not only wastes money but may create paupers. A central council, properly administered, helps to solve this problem without destroying or submerging the methods or identity of any organization. Its purpose is not administrative but rather to be a clearing-house service. The community should be considered as a unit and the social organizations as contributing agencies. The only requirements for successfully carrying on such a council are the will to do it, the public spirit to stick to the task, and the courage to recognize other people's point of view.

Dr. Champion expressed the opinion that Andover, as far as the health situation was concerned, was well equipped with a Board of Health nurse, a district nurse, a school nurse, and a dental nurse. He felt that the overlapping of agencies came from a lack of knowledge and that a central council would be enlightening.

Miss Church of the Lawrence City mission, expressed her appreciation of the work of the Guild and the Red Cross, adding that only six cases had been referred to her during the past year.

A general discussion followed which was helpful and enlightening. The sentiment of the meeting was unanimously in favor of the establishment of a clearing house, and the making of a card catalogue, in which cases might be listed for reference. The cost of a survey and the salary of a social worker was discussed, as well as the question of the real need of a trained worker in addition to the functioning of the present agencies. On the latter question, opinions differed.

A motion was made that the Red Cross make arrangements for the organization of a council as suggested, and that the question of having a survey made by an expert be seriously considered.

The following persons were present at the meeting: Dr. Claude M. Fuess, Mrs. A. P. Thompson, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. Edwin T. Brewster, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Claude M. Fuess, Mrs. Horace M. Poynter, Miss Anna W. Kuhn, Miss Fannie Davis, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, Miss Myra Church of the Lawrence City Mission, Miss Marie Campbell, district nurse, Miss Amelia Shapleigh, Selectman Charles Bowman, Town Treasurer George A. Higgins, Thaxter Eaton, Dr. W. D. Walker, Dr. Philip W. Blake, school physician, C. Carleton Kimball, president of the Andover Guild, Rev. C. W. Henry, Henry G. Tyler, Henry A. Bodwell, and A. P. Thompson.

Obituary

SARAH ELIZA (MERRICK) REECE

Mrs. Henry Reece, died at the home of her nephew, Frank L. Brigham, 9 Pynchard avenue, on Sunday, October 17. She had been in failing health for about eight months. Mrs. Reece was before her marriage, Miss Sarah Eliza Merrick, daughter of Eliza and Grace (Smith) Merrick, old time residents of Barnston, Quebec, in which township she was born December 9, 1852.

The funeral took place at the home of Mr. Brigham on Tuesday, October 19, the service being conducted by the Rev. C. W. Henry of Christ church, assisted by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, minister of the South church. A mixed quartet furnished music and there were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were four nephews, Frank L. Brigham of this town; George L. Brigham, Windsor, Vermont; and Ernest and Roy Pattee of Charlestown.

Burial was in the Derby Line cemetery, Rock Island, Quebec, beside her father, mother, and husband who died fourteen years ago.

Fifth Dressmaking Lesson

The fifth lesson of the dressmaking class being held at the Guild House under the direction of the Essex Agricultural School extension course was given Tuesday. The members are making woolen dresses.

Miss Sabina Hanley of Amesbury is teaching the class and the members are: Mrs. Alexander MacKenzie, Mrs. J. S. Billington, Mrs. Sydney Hatchelder, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. Edmond Dunwoody, Mrs. H. Harkins, Mrs. H. J. Marr, Mrs. A. G. Polgreen, Mrs. William Knapton, Mrs. W. P. Freiwald, and Mrs. S. Kefferstein.

Let's Retire the Clothes Line for the Winter

Hanging clothes out of doors with hands steaming and tender; sudden changes of temperature; chilling and over-exertion involve real risk to health, these cold windy days coming.

The sensible thing is to have us take over this disagreeable part of your family washing—the washing, rinsing and drying.

We'll iron the flat pieces, too, and fluff your woollens and bath-towels and underwear so nicely they'll be all ready to fold away when you get them back. All that will be left for you to do will be the ironing of a few of the lighter, fancy pieces—light pleasant work you can do indoors, at your leisure and without danger to your health.

Village Improvement Society to Hold Annual Meeting

The story of Massachusetts forests in motion pictures will be presented by Elv Ood Wilson of the Massachusetts Forestry association at the annual meeting of the Andover Village Improvement society to be held in Pynchard hall on Monday evening, November 8, at 7.30 o'clock.

Three thousand feet of pictures in three reels will be shown preceded by a talk on forestry. After the pictures are shown, questions will be answered by the forester. The scenes include: Primeval forest, cutting and logging, the trails of the log drive, saw-mill at work, box-making, chestnut blight, white pine blister rust, water power, the fatal cigarette, the forest fire that destroyed the home, locating and fighting the blaze, restoring the forest from the seed to the saw log, nursing the baby trees, school children planting on the town forest, recreation on the state forests, and many other phases of forestry.

These pictures have been shown in one hundred towns to more than 100,000 people. Everyone, whether a member of the society or not, will be welcome at the meeting.

Andover Historical Society to Hold Annual Meeting

Miss Fannie Davis will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Andover Historical society to be held Tuesday evening, November 11, in the vestry of the Baptist church. Miss Davis, who is a connoisseur in Sandwich glass, will share her knowledge and appreciation with the audience.

It promises to be a most interesting meeting and a large attendance is expected.

St. Matthew's Lodge Has Annual Visitation

The annual visitation of St. Matthew's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., was held Monday night and was preceded by a banquet in the Town hall. Nearly 300 attended the feast which was served by Caterer Weigel of Lawrence.

The guest of honor was Right Worshipful Robert K. Disney, district deputy grand master of the eleventh Masonic district, with his suite. At the banquet selections were excellently rendered by the Orpheus Quartet of Lawrence and after the banquet remarks were made by Rt. Wor. Disney.

The official visit was made at the communication in Masonic hall during which the third degree was exemplified. Music for the work was by the Orpheus Quartet.

Punchard to Meet Gloucester Saturday

Coach Eugene V. Lovely's Punchard High eleven will meet the strong Gloucester eleven tomorrow at Gloucester.

Gloucester has one of its best eleven and has been scored on in only one of the five games played thus far. Victories have been as follows:

Gloucester 43, Salem, N. H., 0
Gloucester 21, Swampscott 0.
Gloucester 27, Newburyport 0.
Gloucester 0, Stamford 20.
Gloucester 122, Opponents 20.

Cocah Lovely's eleven is in poor shape for the game, for Captain Doyle, Stickney, Doherty and possibly Morrissey will not be able to play.

Last year Gloucester defeated Punchard 28 to 21.

Hayne-Surridge Company to Represent Smith &amp; Dove in Middle West

That part of the western territory of the Smith & Dove company which has been covered by P. J. Kearns with headquarters in Chicago, will be handled by the Hayne-Surridge Company, with offices at 1027 Locust street, St. Louis, Missouri, and 103 New England Building, Kansas City, Missouri. This arrangement will be effective November 1.

The Hayne-Surridge Company have been the representatives in St. Louis and vicinity for a good many years, and the management feels that the taking over of this territory by this company will enable it to give customers much quicker and more convenient service.

Beginning Monday, November 1st, on a substantial part of the equipment of the Number 5 mill, Smith & Dove will be running a night shift.

Abbot Academy and Mr. Howe are to be congratulated on their new acquisition. The organ, a specification of which is appended, is of excellent quality, and when Phillips Academy possesses its new instrument, Andover people will be singularly fortunate in having some really fine organs in their midst. The organ is the work of the Hall Organ Company of West Haven, Connecticut, and will undoubtedly be a specimen instrument in advertising this notable firm. The workmanship and voicing have been done with considerable skill and care and the firm can be assured that Andover and Abbot Academy will be delighted in the years to come with their production.

Russian Symphonic Choir
An audience numbering eleven hundred gathered at the George Washington hall last Saturday evening, attracted by the Russian Symphonic choir, which aroused so much enthusiasm by its appearance in Andover last season, and by the opportunity of being present at the initial entertainment to be given in the handsome new auditorium.

Although the stage setting is incomplete, and there was some confusion resulting from the fact that the seats are not as yet numbered, and that there was "standing room only," such slight inconveniences were borne with apparent good nature. In addition to the large attendance by townspeople and the students of Phillips academy, delegations were present from Abbot, the Whittier school, Bradford and Rogers Hall.

The gray of the stage formed an effective background for the brilliant garments of the choir. The program was received with warm applause. The choir responded with an encore to Lovovsky's "Lord, Have Mercy" and the Chesholovskian Dance Song.

The program was the same as that given in Symphony hall on Boston, on Sunday evening, on which the Boston Transcript comments as follows:

At Symphony hall last evening the deft and versatile Mr. Kibalech and his Russian symphonic choir gave another of their programs of choral music, mostly Russian, and listed under the three standard headings of liturgical, classic and folk. The concert did not vary materially from those in the past season, with the exception of the interesting, though not altogether happy, arrangement of the andante of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony for choral ensemble.

Mr. Kibalech uses his singers as the instruments of an orchestra. But it demands a suaver body of voices than some of his sopranos to substitute for the string choir. This harshness is still the only fault of his band, an ensemble of an amazing flexibility and technical virtuosity. Their strong point is the male choir, whose singing was especially effective in the Dargonezhsky fragment from the opera of "Russalka" in which Messrs. Mamontoff and Shchek were the soloists, and in the dark beauty of the Rimsky-Korsakoff church scene from "Christmas Eve," which they repeated.

There was liturgical music by Glinka Tschernokoff, in which Mme. Ivanova sang the soprano solo; Count Cherenietoff, a Credo by Gretchaninoff with Mlle. E. Stetzenko, the alto soloist, of set by the rest of the choir; Strokina's "Prayer of St. Simeon," with Mr. Grebetsky, the bass soloist, and the dynamic and virtuosic chant of I.ovsky, which they were again obliged to repeat. For the rest there were folk and near folk songs, Russian, Serbian, Czech-Slovakian, melancholy, lusty, sentimental, which they sang with the same dramatic sweep and musical dexterity that has marked each of their previous performances.

Following the concert, the administration offices of Phillips academy, which are located in the wings of the building, were thrown open to the public.

Glasgow Orpheus Choir in Lowell
Last Monday evening more than a hundred and fifty residents of Andover, attended the concert of the Glasgow Orpheus Choir in the Memorial Auditorium, at Lowell. The chorus, composed of about fifty singers, men and women, under the masterful direction of Hugh S. Robertson, is just completing its first American tour which has taken them as far as Vancouver. No one who heard these singers in their concert of unaccompanied vocal music, will ever forget them. Their singing was a revelation of undreamed possibilities of choral beauty and expressive-ness. More perfect tonal beauty, more exquisite vocal expressiveness could not be imagined.

The program was one of extraordinary variety and was uniformly the highest order. It ranged from Mr. Robertson's tenderly beautiful setting of Katherine Tynan's "All in the April Evening," The sheep with their little lambs
Pass'd me by on the road.
All in the April evening

So is the beauty
Of an aged face."

through the intensely dramatic "Death on the Hills" of Elgar's, to the vivaciously humorous "Bald Turpin" by the late Sir Frederick Bridge. These are merely indicative of the breadth and richness of the program, which in point of time, ranged from the music of Benet (1599) to that of Coleridge-Taylor, Vaughan Williams, and Bantock.

Planning Board Organizes

The Planning Board with every member present met on last Friday evening at the home of Professor Charles H. Forbes and organized with Mr. Forbes as chairman, and Roy Hardy as secretary. There was a general discussion of the function and powers of the board.

The Planning Board was nominated by Dr. Charles E. Abbott and elected by the voters at the last Town meeting as follows: For one year Roy E. Hardy; for two years, R. M. Haynes; for three years, Irving Southworth; for the term of five years, for five years, Charles H. Forbes.

The following motion made by Dr. Abbott was also adopted:

Section 1. A board of five members is hereby created and established, to be known as the planning board. At the annual town meeting to be held in the month of March 1927, there shall be elected one member to serve for one year, one member to serve for two years, one member to serve for three years, one member to serve for four years, and one member to serve for five years, and thereafter there shall be elected at the annual meeting in each year one member of such board to serve for the term of five years.

Section 2. Vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled as provided in General Laws, Chapter 41, Section 11.

Section 3. The duties of such board shall be such as are stated in Chapter forty-one, sections seventy to seventy-two, of the General Laws, and further to consider and advise upon municipal improvements either at the request of other officials of the town or upon its own initiative. It shall consider and develop a town plan, with special attention to main ways, land developments, zoning, playgrounds and parks and sites for permanent school plants. The board shall meet at regular intervals. It may hold public meetings. It shall at all times have access to public documents or information in the possession of any town official or department. It shall examine the plans for the exterior of any public building, monument or similar structure, and for the development and treatment of the grounds about the same before the adoption thereof, and may make such recommendations thereon as it may deem needful. It may provide for public lectures and other educational work in connection with its recommendations. It may incur expenses necessary to the carrying on of its work within the amount of its annual appropriations.

Section 4. All plans for laying out, extending, discontinuing or changing the limits of any way, street, public park or square, and every purchase of land for the site of any public building, and all plans for the location, erection or alteration of public buildings, shall be submitted to said board for its opinion at least two weeks in advance of action by the board of selectmen or the town.

Section 5. Such board shall make a report to the town annually, giving information regarding the conditions of the town and any plans or proposals for the development of the town and estimates of the cost thereof. Such report shall be sent to the selectmen not later than such time in January in each year as the selectmen may prescribe or as may be prescribed by law in force relative to reports, and a copy thereof shall be filed with the Massachusetts department of public welfare.

Abbot Academy Notes

An exhibition of the paintings of Mrs. Beatrice Whitney Van Ness will be opened in the John-Esther Art Gallery of Abbot Academy, on Saturday afternoon, October thirty-first from four to six.

The pictures will be on exhibition during the month of November. The Gallery is regularly open on Saturdays, from two to five. It will also be open specially on Tuesday afternoons through November.

Mrs. Van Ness is the teacher of Art in the Academy, and also teaches at the Country Day School. One of her paintings, which was hung with an exhibition of the work of prominent American artists—held in 1924 at the John-Esther Art Gallery—attracted very favorable attention.

On Tuesday evening, November 2, there will be a song recital at Davis Hall by Mrs. Helen H. Blague, soprano, assisted by Miss Grace B. Tucker at the piano.

Mrs. Blague, who was graduated from Abbot Academy in 1908, is well known in Springfield, where her rendition of songs has been noted for qualities of keen musical feeling and delicate interpretation. She has a soprano voice of more than ordinary volume, which she handles with ease, and which, in its middle register particularly, has much beauty of tone. She is well suited in voice and temperament to the singing of songs of an intimate nature.

Her program seems to give promise of a most enjoyable group of songs.

It has been hoped that friends of the Academy will be interested to attend on Saturday afternoon, the address of Miss Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of Wellesley College, to the school, under the auspices of Cum Laude Society of Abbot Academy. The Abbot Chapter received its charter in the spring of 1926, and nine seniors were elected to membership—five of them girls from the vicinity: Anstiss Bowser, Frances Flagg, Frances Merrick, Edda Renouf and Ruth Stafford. The society has for its object the encouragement and reward of high attainment on the part of students in secondary schools.

After the address, the audience is welcomed to the John-Esther Art Gallery to meet Mrs. Van Ness, whose paintings will be on exhibition.

On Wednesday, the 27th of October, moving pictures were taken of many Abbot activities. Teachers and students on their way to chapel at Abbot Hall, going to classes and at McKean Hall, students on the tennis and basketball courts and the hockey field, all played their parts as if Wednesday were a regular school day. Pictures were taken of clock golf players, of horseback riders, and of all the classes singing on the steps of Abbot Hall. These pictures may be used by the Alumnae at the meetings of the many Abbot Clubs throughout the country.

To Give Recital in Jordan Hall

Miss Marie Nichols, violinist, and Miss Kate Friskin, pianist, both members of the music faculty of Abbot academy will give a recital in Jordan hall, Boston, on Wednesday November 3, at 8.15 o'clock.

Communication

DEAR MR. EDITOR:
I was much interested in reading an editorial in a Lawrence paper a few days ago regarding the possible sale of the Carey property on the corner of Main street and Punchard avenue.

Several years ago an effort was made to extend business out Elm street with little success. Park street was a "boom" but is of one side and not at all suited to the kinds of business locating on the Main street.

When the Andover Garage was built that part of Main street between Punchard avenue and Chestnut street was bound, sooner or later, to become a part of the business center. The logical location for business is on Main street. It cannot be forced to any locality. It will go where it wants to.

We are also hearing a great deal about a new Post Office. The best and most convenient place in town is where it was years ago—the Town House, back from the center. The logical location for business is on Main street. It cannot be forced to any locality.

It doesn't seem to me the "powers that be" are alive to Andover's real needs. A new Town building must come some day and should be located on the Main street, south of Chestnut. We should have sold the present Town house and with a liberal appropriation, erected a memorial building suitable to the Town's needs for years to come, instead of wasting about $100,000 on "Andover's folly" in the square.

Have we a Town Planning Board and is it supposed to report its recommendations?

Wedding

BARNARD—MACNAUGHTON

Miss Winnifred MacNaughton, daughter of Mrs. Ada Belle MacNaughton of Pleasant street, Methuen, was married last evening to William Shirley Barnard, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Barnard of Punchard Elms. The ceremony took place at the Central Methodist Episcopal church in Lawrence, at seven o'clock, with Rev. Ed. Frank Miller, as the officiating clergyman. The decorations were palms, smilax and chrysanthemums and the organ music was played by Mrs. William S. Lane.

The bride entered the church on the arm of Charles A. Salisbury of Andover, and was given in marriage by her mother. Her gown was of white velvet, trimmed with silver lace, and the veil was held by a coronet of lace and pearls, an heirloom in the bridegroom's family. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Nowell Reed Kinney, who wore a gown of American Beauty velvet and carried a bouquet of roses in a harmonizing color. The gift of the bride to her attendant was a beaded bag.

The best man was Foster C. Barnard, a brother of the groom, and the ushers were Arthur W. Cole, a brother-in-law of the groom, and Norwell Reed Kinney of Lawrence.

Following the ceremony, a reception to the relatives and intimate friends was held at the Red Tavern in Methuen. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard will be at home to their friends at 12 High street, Andover. Mr. Barnard is associated with his father and brother in the firm of J. W. Barnard and Son, shoe manufacturers.

Hansel and Gretel

"Hansel and Gretel," an opera in three acts, presented by the K. M. White Concert Direction, Boston and New York, is the next musical event planned to take place in the George Washington auditorium on Wednesday evening, November 17.

Charles R. Cronham will be the conductor. In December, 1924, Mr. Cronham was appointed Municipal organist of the city of Portland, Maine, coming to New England from the Lake Placid club, Lake Placid, New York, where in his capacity as organist of one of the best instruments in the country and as director of music, he experienced marked success.

May Korb, blessed with a winsome personality in addition to a charming voice, will appear as Gretel, with exquisite artistry, will appear as Gretel.

The part of Hansel will be taken by Sally Spencer, who has had marked success in opera as in concert and oratorio. The Theodore Webb is cast for Peter the Broom-maker. Mary Potter as the Witch, and Maria Allen as the Damsel and Sandman.

Mr. Webb has a remarkably good voice, being rich, warm, resonant, of unlimited capacity with skill and intelligence. Among the singers of today no contralto is more richly endowed than Mary Potter, who during the past few seasons has left a deep impression with audiences, conductors, managers and critics by the beauty of her voice, splendid musicianship and absolute reliability. The possessor of a lovely lyric soprano voice, Miss Allen also adds perfect suitability to the dual roles which she will portray. A fire musician, and splendid artist, she is a most happy addition to a remarkable cast.

The largest collection of fingerprints of criminals in America is that belonging to the Leavenworth, Kansas, penitentiary. Long-term prisoners are arranged and classified the 250,000 prints that bring them more cell mates.

Nonegenarian Observes Birthday

On Saturday afternoon, October 23, more than eighty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. George P. Byington on High street to wish her many happy returns of the day and attend the celebration in honor of her ninetieth birthday.

It was certainly an enjoyable occasion, and Mrs. Byington was glad to greet each one present. During the afternoon, some daguerotypes of the hostess at the age of sixteen were shown, and a poem was read which was written by her oldest cousin, Roger S. Greene of Oakland, California, eighty-six years old. This poem referred to her at about the time the pictures were taken, and contained exactly ninety words.

The following greeting was sent by Miss Mary E. Tracy, a niece of Mrs. Byington, who is a missionary in Yokohama, Japan. "I wish I could be there in person to say 'O Meleto' to you for having attained such an honorable age. In Japan when one arrives at the age of eighty, she is considered worthy of wearing a red dress and using scarlet things. I am, therefore, following their custom (though it is ten years too late) and am sending you a scarlet furushiki such as they use for carrying bundles. You may find it convenient for wrapping up your knitting. The storks represent long life and are used as congratulatory emblems."

One of the features of the occasion was a birthday cake, made by Miss Martha D. Byington and adorned with ninety candles. These were lighted by Steven T. Byington, Russell B. Richardson, Gardner R. Shaw and Robert J. Tracy, a grandnephew of Mrs. Byington.

Refreshments of tea, cocoa, sandwiches, cakes, cookies, nuts and candy were served. Those who poured were Mrs. Frank R. Petty and Miss Alice E. Loomer, assisted by Mary Arnold, Emily Mix and Ann Tracy, grandnieces, and Doris Shaw, Violet Richardson, Ada Haynes, Jane Wood, Mildred Wood.

The birthday book, signed by all present, was in charge of Miss Barbara Loomer and Margaret Richardson.

Mrs. Byington received many beautiful gifts of photographs, books, articles of wearing apparel, candy and flowers which included chrysanthemums of three varieties, Easter lilies, lilies of the valley, carnations and roses. One bouquet of cut flowers came from the house in Windsor, Vermont, where she was born ninety years ago.

Greetings were received by air-mail, ordinary mail and telegraph from California, Oregon, Arizona, Washington, D. C., South Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Relatives and friends were present from Cambridge, Concord, Mount Holyoke College, Melrose, Reading, Andover and Ballardvale and from Jericho, Vermont.

Mrs. Byington has lived in Ballardvale for twenty years and is the oldest resident member of the Congregational Church.

Receives Valuable Gift

A delightful party was held on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Quinn, River street, in honor of Mr. Quinn's birthday, at which time a host of relatives and friends from Beverly, Lowell, Reading, Cambridge and this town were present.

The event was very enjoyable as those present made merry at the entertainment. Mr. Quinn was surprised when he was presented with a handsome wrist watch chain, by his wife. In making the presentation speech Mrs. Peter Quinn read an appropriate poem.

The host was also the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

An added feature was the birthday cake made by Mrs. Daniel Quinn. Following the reception a buffet lunch of cake and ice cream was served. Music was furnished by Mrs. Joseph Quinn.

Among the relatives present were: Mrs. B. L. Smith and son, Robert, of North Shore, Beverly; Mr. and Mrs. William Quinn, daughter Olive, and son William, Jr., of Center street; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Caine and son Philip, Lowell; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinn and son, Robert, and daughter Dorothy, and Mrs. William Quinn, Sr.

Renew Hall Meetings

The regular meeting of Ballardvale Lodge No. 105, held on Monday evening with the Chief Templar, Mrs. Nelson Townsend, presiding.

During the past few weeks the meetings have been held at the homes of members, but now the hall has been renovated and the lighting system put in good condition. In the future will be held in the hall.

Will Create a Village

Monday afternoon a meeting of the Junior Hebrews of the Congregational church was held in the church vestry with nineteen present.

It was in the form of a work meeting at which time preparations of make a "Philippine Village" out of card board were discussed. This task has proven to be of much interest and each meeting is looked forward to with pleasure.

Among those present were: Ralph and Dorothy Greenwood, George and Foster Zink, Jack Gollan, Agnes Stein, Esther Stein, Margaret Mitchell, Ada Haynes, Jane and Mildred Wood, Edith Griffin, Anita Granville, Norman Peatman, Helen Baker, Frank Drouin, Edith and Helen Magurn and Miss Emily Tracy.

George Brown of Ballardvale had the manslaughter complaint against him dismissed in District court last Friday by Judge Mahoney, who declared the death of Laura Abraham, five years old, on Chandler street, October 15, was caused by the way "vehicles cluttered the street."

"This condition is directly responsible for the death of that child," said the court, "if drivers did not park their vehicles on the street and do as they pleased the public highways would be safer."

The Abrahams child died from skull fracture, testified Dr. V. A. Reed, medical examiner. Bennie Pechesky, teamster, and Peter Gaudette of 31 Chandler street, with 15-year-old George Elkes and Alexander Elkes, 13, both Bruce school pupils, testified in substance that the accident which resulted in the Abrahams girl's death was due to no fault of Brown, who was operating a Ford sedan which struck the child.

It was testified that a peddler's wagon was at right angles to the roadway and across the street and another wagon. Between them Brown had to worm his way. While he was doing so, the Abrahams girl darted from the sidewalk and fell to the paved roadway. Motor Vehicle Supervisor Dillon stated he examined the brakes on Brown's car and found them satisfactory and the machine in good condition.

Judge Mahoney suggested to Capt. M. A. Barry, prosecuting officer in court, that remedial action be taken at once to clear up such congestion of vehicles on city streets to make them safe for travel and to insist that made by police that flagrant violations of parking regulations cease throughout the city.

ESSEX COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL NOTES

Now is the Time to Control Corn Bore

This is the season when the most effective work can be done to control the Corn Borer. The winter-born corn borer is the most common pest of corn in this section. It is a large, fat, white, grub-like creature, with a brown head and legs. It is found in the corn fields, and it is the work of the farmer to destroy it.

Cur a v definitely says that all corn stubble or old stalks must be plowed under or burned before December 1, or a fine may result.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Coax Cows to More Milk

Mr. Leroy Amby, general superintendent of the American Woolen Company Farms of Andover, reports an excellent stand of alfalfa on their new fields. Since alfalfa hay fed to cows increased their milk flow so heavily, he plans to sow several more fields next spring. He also reports that sweet clover pasture increased the milk yield by ten percent this summer.

With the Home-Demonstration Agent

West Newbury is the first community to start a nutrition class this fall, conducted by Miss Crawford. The group was organized by Mrs. Christine Holmes, chairman of the home economics committee of the Women's Club. The meetings are held in their new club house.

An illustrated lecture on the care of clothing was given before the Pomona Grange at Rowley and the Old South Club at Beverly.

The history of our County Extension Service and how it serves the women of Essex County was the subject of a recent talk by Miss Crawford before the Grange Auxiliary at Peabody and the Ladies' Aid of the Lafayette Street Methodist Church of Salem.

Dinner: I'll have some pork chops with fried potatoes and I'll have the pork chops neck.

Waiter: Yes, sir. Which way?—Leather-neck.

Waiter: Did you ring for me, sir?

MAN AT TABLE: Ring for you? Good gracious no, man. I was telling the bell for you, I thought you were dead.—American Funeral Director

Looney Features Games

Two matches were rolled in the Andover industrial league at the Andover alleys Monday night. The Andover Garage team fell victim to the strong Clerks team and the Smith & Dove Team 1 triumphed over the Smith & Dove Team 2. Looney of the Smith & Dove Team 1 was the bright star of the evening, with a high triple of 293 and a high single of 111. Nelligan of the Clerks outfit followed closely in the match with a high triple of 291 and single of 1080. Harnedy rolled 119 for the high single.

Rebekahs Hold Whist Party

Whist was enjoyed at eight tables at the Fraternal Hall last Friday evening under the direction of the Rebekahs, and for the benefit of the Fraternal Fair.

A door prize of a box of candy was won by Albert Sharpe and the other winners were as follows: Arthur Mitchell, stationery; Mrs. James Walker, coffee; James Douglas, glasses; J. W. Cameron, sugar; Katherine Watt, glasses; Ruth Saunders, candy dish; Mrs. Frank Morse, clothespin bag; Mrs. George Brown, candy; Mrs. Susan Wood, socks; Miss Sadie Hobbs, vase; Donald Laurie, bath salts; Howard Stickney, socks; Mrs. William Craik, salt and pepper shakers; Mrs. William McDermitt, pitcher; Mrs. Cleveland Miles, sandwich plate; Miss Agnes Stewart won the consolation and Peter Hall the men's trophy.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Edmond Dunwoody, Mrs. Franklin Valentine, Miss Milly McLeod, Miss Annie Anderson and Mrs. James Skea. The last three named acted as punchers.

THEATRE NOTES

SHUBERT THEATRE

Al Jolson enters upon the eighth and last week of his record-breaking engagement at the Shubert (Boston) Monday night, November 1; Saturday night, November 6, the night of the Harvard-Princeton game, will be the final performance. Jolson will play Parsons Theatre, Hartford, the week of November 8th, and the Shubert, New Haven, the week of November 15th, on Saturday of which comes the Yale-Harvard game.

Jolson is at his best in "Big Boy." He sings Dixie songs with all his oldtime fervor. He puts heart throbs in them, and here and there a big laugh. He tells a lot of new stories, about golf, and football, and Europe, and horse races, and other subjects. He has a new collection of songs, and also obliges with some of his popular tunes of years ago. And he sings a group of negro spirituals with an octette of plantation singers.

In "Big Boy" Al plays the role of a negro stable boy who rides the winner in the Kentucky Derby. The race scene is one of the most thrilling ever staged, and employs four thoroughbreds who come pounding down to the footlights and makes an exciting turn at the finish.

There is also a chorus of beautiful girls, hailing from the sunny southland. In the ballroom scene they wear some of the advance winter models in evening gowns, and in the race track episodes they appear in the latest styles of afternoon frocks.

Miss Sun Elected Assemblyman at Elmira College

Miss Mary Sun, a Chinese student who has spent much time in Andover at the home of Dr. Alfred Stearns on Chapel avenue, has recently been elected an assemblyman of her house at Elmira College, Elmira, N. Y., where she is a member of the Freshman Class. The office of assemblyman is one of the executive positions in the Student Government organization, the ruling body of the college. Student government officers are elected from the college body and with the cooperation of that body they make and enforce the laws under which the students live. It is a great compliment to Miss Sun to have been chosen as a member of this important organization. There are at out 600 students now registered at Elmira College, the first institution of college grade founded exclusively for women. Elmira opened in 1855. Miss Sun is one of three Chinese students now attending Elmira. (The foreign students are a Japanese girl, a French girl, an Italian and a student from Greece.)

Auto Crash on North Main Street

What might have been a serious accident occurred on North Main street at the junction of Lewis street about 10 o'clock Saturday night when a Ford operated by Alfred J. Fortin, 78 Inman street, South Lawrence, and a Dodge roadster operated by Berto F. Bacon of Rocky Hill road, sideswiped each other.

The Ford was owned by George A. Fortin of 3 Long street, Medford. The Dodge roadster was owned by the Sweeney Motor Co., 1 Broadway, Everett.

RECORD WHIST PARTY

Gathering of Shawsheen Woman's Club at Andover Country Club Attended by Over 300

The ways and means committee of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club sponsored one of the largest whist parties ever held here last Tuesday afternoon with over 300 present. The affair was held at the Andover Country club and whist and bridge were played at eighty tables. Prizes were awarded at each table and refreshments were served at the close. The committee which is deserving of great credit for the successful and enjoyable affair is composed of Mrs. Roy D. Bradbury, Mrs. Frank Bartlett, Mrs. Willard A. Currier, Mrs. George L. Graham, Mrs. Joseph B. Harig, Mrs. William A. Green and Mrs. Harry E. North.

Readings by Superintendent Sheridan

The members of the Shawsheen Village Woman's club will have an opportunity to hear Bernard M. Sheridan, superintendent of schools in Lawrence, at the monthly meeting next Monday night. Mr. Sheridan will give three readings with musical accompaniment—"The Raven" Edgar Allan Poe, music by Arthur Bergh; "Hawatha's Wooing," Henry W. Longfellow, music by Rosseter G. Cole; and "Aux Italiens," Owen Meredith, music arranged from "Il Trovatore." Miss Mabel F. Fremmer will be at the piano. There will be a short business meeting and all members are urged to attend.

Hallowe'en Party

Hallowe'en, time of ghosts and witches, was celebrated by the Margaret Slattery Class of the Free church at the home of Miss Marion Silva, Enmore street, Tuesday evening, in a fitting manner. They had as their guests the class of Mrs. Alfred C. Church, and members of both classes made merry by indulging in the time-honored games of the Hallowe'en season. The house was prettily decorated with Hallowe'en colors and favors and during the evening refreshments were served.

Catholic Daughters Stage Party and Award Prizes

A most enjoyable Hallowe'en party was held following the meeting of Court St. Monica Catholic Daughters of America in the K. of C. hall Monday night. The members appeared in costumes and enjoyed a gala time. The hall was prettily decorated in autumn leaves and Hallowe'en colors.

A splendid program of dancing and singing was arranged by the committee as follows: Piano solo, Bessie Corey; vocal solo, Nellie Sullivan; Charleston exhibition, Mary Doherty; toe dance, Rita Welch, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Welch; Charleston exhibition, Sally Finnerty of Lowell; vocal solo, Lauretta Finnerty of Lowell.

Prizes were awarded for the best home-made and original costumes to Miss Julia Hickey, Miss Julia Daley, Mrs. Frank Connolly, and Miss Elizabeth Doherty.

Refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, cake, fudge, olives, pickles, candy and apples were served during the evening. The following committee made the affair a huge success: Miss Betty Winters, chairman; Mrs. Charles J. Bailey, Miss Grace Abercrombie, Miss Bridget Whelan, Mrs. Albert White, Mrs. John Young, Mrs. John Alexander, Mrs. W. J. Doherty, Miss Mary Young and Mrs. Robert Winters.

PERSONALS

Don't forget to vote next Tuesday. The polling booth will be open at the Boys' club house on Haverhill street from 6 a.m. to 6.30 p.m.

John Hill of Sterling street was heard last Monday night by radio fans from station W E E 1. He sang several selections which were rendered in a fine manner.

Hallowe'en Dance

The Square and Compass club will hold their second Hallowe'en party and dance in the Crystal ballroom, formerly the Shaw-sheen Cafeteria, on Friday evening.

There will be special music, by Ed Shubert's Bella Vista orchestra, and Hallowe'en novelties and a barbecue lunch will be prepared for those who attend.

It is in charge of the entertainment committee and all are invited to attend.

Food Sale

The food sale of the Shawsheen Parent-Teacher association under the direction of the ways and means committee will be held Friday afternoon in the Boys' club house, from 2 to 4.30 o'clock. Come and help make the sale a big success.

Program for White Fund Lectures

The program for the White Fund lectures to be given in Lawrence this season was announced last week. With the exception of February 4th, the lectures are all to be given in the Winter Garden.

Admission is free and the program is as follows:

Monday, October 25—Winter Garden, 7.45 p.m.—Dr. S. Parkes Cadman: "Wonders of the Imagination."

Sunday, November 14—Winter Garden, 3.30 p.m.—The Little Symphony Concert.

Friday, November 26—Winter Garden, 7.45 p.m.—Bronson DeCou, "Dream Pictures of Alpine Wonderlands." Illustrated.

Friday, December 3—Winter Garden 7.45 p.m.—Roy Chapman Andrews, "Where the Dinosaur Lays Its Eggs." Illustrated.

Sunday, December 19—Winter Garden, 3.30 p.m.—Dr. John C. Bowker, "The Seas of Noon." Illustrated.

Sunday, January 16—Winter Garden 3.30 p.m.—Alden E. Davies, tenor; Roland Tapley, violin; Howard Slayman, piano.

Friday, February 14—Oliver School, 7.45 p.m.—Arthur C. Pillsbury, "The Wonders of Hawaii." Illustrated.

Thursday, February 10—Winter Garden, 7.45 p.m.—Lowell Thomas, "With Allenby to Palestine." Illustrated.

Lectures at Winter Garden by Dr. Edward Howard Griggs on March 4, 11, 18, 25, April 1, 8.

Attractive Art Exhibit by Mrs. Wallace

Among the exhibitors at the Art Exhibit at the Lawrence Public library is Mrs. Fred A. Wallace of Andover, whose work always attracts much attention in local exhibits.

"A Moonlight" and "A Gloucester Wharf" are two of her entries, which are especially interesting and beautifully done, and a third, "After the Storm," depicting a boisterous sea has attracted much comment.

Mrs. Wallace is an active member of the North Shore Art Association, also a master craftsman of the Society of Arts and Crafts of Boston and New York. Her work on china and the dyeing of textiles is well known. She has studied art with A. W. Buhler and Paul Cornoyer of New York, and her recent work has been criticised by Gifford Beal of New York.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROWS

Membership Increases and Enrollment Is Largest in History of This Self-Supporting School.

The enrollment at the Shawsheen Community school reached the highest total in the five years of its existence last Sunday, with 117 children on the roll and 106 of them present at the session. The school is unique, in that it is entirely self-supporting and is connected with no church. It is under the able direction of Albert N. Wade, superintendent, and a staff of nine teachers in the upper classes and three kindergarten teachers. There is still room for any children in the village who are not attending Sunday school anywhere and a cordial invitation is extended to them to join.

Jays Still Set Pace

The Jays are still carrying on at a fast pace in the Andover Square and Compass bowling league and the remainder of the league wants to know where they got "those ringers." Tuesday night at the Shawsheen alleys they took four more points, this time from the Janitors, known in the league standing as the B's. No one broke a hundred in the match, Bob Sutton's 97 being the best single string. George Neilson hit 267 for high triple.

The Cains, by taking four from the Hiram, followed right along on the heels of the leaders and there should be plenty of action next week when these one, two teams meet. It wasn't until the final frame that the four points were secure for the Cains, but Dave Preston pulled out a last-minute spare to give his team the final string by six pins.

It remained for the Tubals, however, to set a new record by taking the match from the Tyreans by 124 pins. Kirk Batcheller goes back in the anchor position on his team by virtue of his high triple of 286 but it was tight squeeze as Joseph Higginson hit 285. The latter had the high single of 104.

Police Court Notes

Camelo Caverlo of North street, West Andover, appeared before Judge C. J. Mahoney in Andover police court Saturday, charged with gunning without a license. Caverlo is an alien, it is claimed. He pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $50. He was brought in by deputy Warden Ralph Greenwood of West Andover. Caverlo had two gray squirrels, it is claimed.

Edward Chardhar of Springfield street, Lawrence, appeared before Judge Colver J. Stone in Police court Tuesday afternoon, charged with gunning without a license, being an unnaturalized citizen and not having in his possession real estate to the value of $500 and being in possession of a shotgun. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50.

John J. Stevens of Union, N. H., appeared charged with operating without a license and proper registration. Stevens testified that he bought the machine in Lawrence with Rhode Island number plates. He had a N. W. Hampshire license. He was allowed to go.
